

Claims Status Update – November 30, 2005

The Special Master is in the process of completing his review of all the letters he has received. Due to the volume of claims and the fact that many claimants filed letters related to several tracts of land, the Special Master had to create a database to allow him to properly organize and cross-reference claimants and land tracts. The creation of the database caused a delay in his review of your submissions. The Special Master is nearing completion of his review and hopes to have responsive letters out by early to mid-December.
