Our lawyers are current and up-to-date on tax legislation, not just after it becomes law, but before its passage, as it evolves through Congress and its committees, and thereafter as it is developed and interpreted by regulations, rulings and case law.

We consider pending tax legislation and its effects when rendering tax planning and analysis services, and regularly update clients on such matters. In addition, we provide the following services:

- Advise clients on the tax consequences of, and in planning for, major corporate transactions including mergers, stock purchases and sales, asset purchases and sales, spin-offs, split-offs, split-ups and corporate recapitalizations
- Advise clients on the structure of transactions to minimize the effects of statutory limitations on the use of corporate attributes, including net operating loss carry-forwards
- Leasing transactions
- Executive compensation planning
- Use of passive losses by individuals
